

Matthew Cromaz

Oakland, CA | 415-745-5603 | matthewcromaz37@gmail.com | linkedin.com/in/matthew-cromaz

EDUCATION

California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo Master of Science in Quantitative Economics Coursework: Advanced Econometrics, Machine Learning Econometrics, Evidence-Based Decision Analysis, Computing for Economics	San Luis Obispo, CA June 2025
Reed College Bachelor of Arts in Economics Coursework: Econometric Methods, Probability & Statistics, Algorithms & Data Structures, Linear Algebra	Portland, OR January 2024

TECHNICAL SKILLS

Languages: Python, R, SQL (Sqlite3), C++, JavaScript, HTML/CSS
Data & ML: Pandas, NumPy, scikit-learn, Statsmodels, Matplotlib, Causal Inference
Tools: Tableau, R Studio, Stata, Cursor, Generative AI IDEs, Microsoft Office

TECHNICAL PROJECTS

Economic Consultant (Graduate Capstone Project) • Developed nested logit models with cross-price elasticities to optimize pricing and maximize revenue using transaction-level e-commerce data. • Performed statistical power analyses to validate modeling assumptions and ensure sample adequacy for rigorous product-level decision making.	Python, Statsmodels, R
Undergraduate Thesis: Behavioral Economics in Gaming • Analyzed user behavior modeling for loss aversion and price discrimination during transitions from loot boxes to battle passes. • Applied quantitative analysis to evaluate how behavioral economics principles influence user retention and monetization strategies.	R, Quantitative Analysis

EXPERIENCE

Behavioral Intervention Associates (BIA) Behavioral Technician • Collected and reported quantitative and qualitative performance data to support evidence-based treatment decisions and outcome tracking. • Implemented structured behavioral methodologies while tracking client progress metrics to ensure data-driven adjustments to treatment plans.	Oakland, CA August 2025 – Present
Center for Life Beyond Reed Strategic Partnerships Intern • Managed internship listings and coordinated data-driven outreach to improve student engagement and track key growth metrics.	Portland, OR October 2021 – May 2022

CERTIFICATIONS

Tableau Desktop Specialist (2025); CFA Institute Investment Foundations Certificate (2026); FINRA SIE (In Progress)